

Love. Loss. Hope. Purpose. Stories of Life-Changing Moments

Binge drinking on Homecoming night seemed like innocent fun. After Taylor and some friends attended underage drinking parties and made several poor choices, she became separated in dark swampy woods. Kathi Sullivan will share her daughter Taylor's story to warn others of the danger of underage drinking, binge drinking and poor choices. Kathi ends the presentation with a message of hope, love and a new found power for students to deal with peer pressure and the tough choices they face every day.

Chris Sullivan should have been on top of the world as a pro NFL football player for the New England Patriots. Instead, he was battling anxiety and an addiction to drugs and alcohol. Chris shares his struggles with substance use and mental health wellness. He teaches life skills that will help others make good choices surrounding alcohol, drugs and coping with anxiety, depression and mental health.

All participants must adhere to the School District's protocols of properly wearing face masks and keeping appropriate physical distance from others, except if sitting with same household/family members.
